YORKSHIRE VICTORY

Sutcliffe & Macaulay
Beat Northants.
SUSSEX HOLD
LANCASHIRE.

Hampshire Beat Essex
For Sixth Win.

NAOMAL AND NAIDU IN BRIGHT PARTNERSHIP.

London, Yesterday.
Splendid batting by Sutcliffe (89) and brilliant bowling by Macaulay (6 for 35) gave Yorkshire their tenth victory of the season when they beat Northants by an innings and 16 runs at Huddersfield. With two games in hand on Kent the champions are now only three points behind the present leaders.

Sussex succeeded in a thrilling struggle for major points against Lancashire at Hove and just managed by 4 runs to top the visitors' first innings total. Hopwood (91) and Sibley (8 for 91) were in great form for Lancashire.

Farnes and Herman.

Hampshire followed up their success against Worcester by defeating Essex by 128 runs to record their second successive victory. Kenneth Farnes, the Light Blue bowler took 5 for 52 for Essex, but the visitors' batting failed before Herman (7 for 50).

Worcester Gain Points.

Nichol (95) helped materially towards Worcestershire's first innings victory over Glamorgan at Swansea. Somerset gained major points against Warwickshire at Edgbaston in a low scoring game.

Brilliant Indians.

Magnificent batting was witnessed at Lord's during the partnership between Naomal (164 not out) and Naider (101) against the Middlesex attack. The Indian pair scored freely all round the wicket and scored between them 266 of their side's total of 409 for 7. Requiring 187 runs for victory the Indians lost two cheap wickets before the close of play.

HEAVY SENTENCE FOR SOLDIER.

Stole European's Overcoat From Y.M.C.A.

HIS THIRD OFFENCE.

Private Arthur Price, aged 28 years, of the "E" Co., South Wales Borderers, was sent to jail with hard labour for six months, when convicted of larceny at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

It was stated that Price stole an overcoat and a cigarette case, property of Mr. F. Ambrose, from the European Y.M.C.A. in Salisbury Road on July 19.

Shortly afterwards, he gave himself up at Murray Barracks, and confessed he had stolen the coat, which he pawned for $5 at a shop in Canton Road. He also stated when questioned that he had thrown away the ticket.

Price, who had two previous convictions, pleaded guilty when charged.

DAVIS CUP.

GERMANY IS HOLDING AMERICA

CRAMM BEATS SHIELDS
BUT VINES WINS

AMERICA'S HARD FIGHT

Paris, Yesterday.

Von Cramm, who started the tennis world with a sensational victory over "Bunny" Austin in the Anglo-German Davis Cup match in Berlin, provided another sensation to-day when he beat Frank Shields, last year's runner-up at Wimbledon, in the Final Round of the European Zone of the Davis Cup against America.

The German's cool and calculating play coupled with his perfect ball control mastered the American's speed, force and long reach for him to give Germany the lead by scores of 7-5, 5-7, 6-4, 8-6.

Germany's lead, however, was short-lived for Ellsworth Vines, this year's Wimbledon champion, proved too good for D. Prenn, Germany's No. 1 ranking player, to level the match. Prenn in the Anglo-German match in Berlin defeated both Austin and Perry, but he was not expected to withstand the attack of Vines. The American won, 6-2, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4.

America should win the doubles comfortably with Wilbur Allison and John Van Ryn while Vines is almost certain to beat Von Cramm to give America entry into the Challenge Round against France. Shields is expected to go down before Prenn, whose form this season places him well within the world's first 10 players.

Should the Germans score a surprise win in the doubles they may provide the sensation of the year by going on to win the Davis Cup (Germany has not yet held the trophy), but the odds are in favour of the United States team, which includes the invincible Vines.

THEFT OF VALUABLE JEWELRY CHARGED.

Gloucester Building
Robbery.

AMERICAN OWNERS ABSENT.

Described as a painter, Hung Nam (22) was brought before Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning on a charge of the theft of two gold watches and jewellery to the total value of $875, the property of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Luykx, of the National City Bank of New York.

Two other Chinese, Lai Fuk (29) and Cheung Ping-sang (21) both unemployed, were charged with receiving the stolen property.

Detective-Sergeant Edwards, in applying for a short remand, said that Mr. and Mrs. Luykx were away at Manila, and would not be back for another 10 days. They occupied room 405 in Gloucester Building, and between July 9 and 13, the jewellery was stolen from a jewel box in the room. The complainants were unable to state whether the articles were stolen in the day time or at night.

SOVIET CITIZENS TO LEAVE HARBIN.

Sensational Reports
Of Moscow Order.

FIGHTING AT PAYEN.

Harbin, To-day.
The Russian Press prints sensational reports concerning Soviet citizens here. They declare that Moscow has ordered all Soviet organizations to curtail their activities and has ordered the majority of Soviet citizens to withdraw to Russia.

They also state that the Soviet Consulate is preparing to evacuate, but this cannot be confirmed from other Consular sources.—Reuter.

Severe fighting is going on at Payen, 45 miles north of Harbin, where the Manchukuo garrison has been attacked by a band of anti-Manchukuo.—Reuter.

AUSTRALIAN OFFERS

Reciprocal Trade In Empire.

MR. BRUCE'S PLAN.

Would Open Areas
Now Protected.

PROGRESS AT OTTAWA'S
GREAT CONFERENCE.

Ottawa, Yesterday.

The Australian proposals, submitted to the Conference through the delegations by the ex-Premier, Rt. Hon. Stanley Bruce, of Australia, provide, amongst other things, the retention of existing preferences, and general widening; those preferences with a limited number of reservations for example, where Britain already has practically the whole trade, also to provide reclassification of the tariff to make available preferentially to Britain the protected areas in Australian industry which are not exploited by Australian manufacturers.

Mr. Bruce emphasised that all his proposals were conditional on reasonable reciprocity by Britain.

"We are not here to barter, item by item. We have the fullest disposition to give generously of all that we can possibly afford to give, and I am completely confident that British approaches the Conference in the same spirit," Mr. Bruce said.

Ottawa, To-day.

The chief delegates to the Imperial Economic Conference here met this morning to consider the personnel of the all-important committee which will deal with plans for the promotion of trade within the British Empire.

This committee, with five other main groups, will study every aspect of the subjects assigned to them.

The Conference delegates will rest from their labours over Sunday, will attend a civic luncheon and possibly an engagement at Government House, where Lord Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, will receive them.

COSGRAVE APPEALS FOR SANITY.

Free State Pushing Tariff Measure.

ECONOMIC WAR AHEAD.
Senate's Amendments
Are Disregarded

Dublin, To-day.

While delegates of all the Empire are striving to reach understandings which will increase inter-Empire trade, the Government of the Irish Free State is rushing through legislation which will involve it inevitably in a tariff war with Great Britain.

The Emergency Duties Bill will become law by the adoption of its clauses by the Dail after that House has rejected the amendments recommended sent to it from the Senate.

An appeal to all patriotic Irishmen to use every effort to prevent a disastrous economic war with Great Britain "into which the Irish people are being dragged," was made by Mr. W. T. Cosgrave, Opposition leader.

His party, representing 400,000 Irish electors, believes the first casualties of this senseless war will be the poorest in the community, but it will ultimately produce calamitous consequences, wherefrom no class or section can escape, says Mr. Cosgrave. He urges direct negotiation between the two Governments in order to secure a speedy peace.—Reuter.

BURNLEY MILL WORKERS TO STRIKE TO-MORROW.

Will Fight Proposed Wage Reduction By Walk-out.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

London, To-day.

Between 15,000 and 20,000 mill workers of the Burnley district, unless their demands are met, will declare a strike to-morrow in protest against the proposed wage reduction of 12 1/2 per cent. which their employers declare is necessary to the continued operation of the factories.

The workers insist that the reduction cannot be considered.

ADMIRALTY PLACES NEW ORDERS.

Naval Programme To Be Continued.

FINANCIAL DELAYS.

Several Small Ships

To Be Built.

BRITAIN FAR BEHIND HER
LIMITATIONS.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

London, To-day.

The 1931 naval programme, which was held up by the financial difficulties which the Government encountered, is being continued only now, with the placing of orders for several small craft by the Admiralty.

The programme, which is limited by treaty, provides for the laying down of three cruisers, one flotilla leader, eight destroyers, four sloops, three submarines and several smaller craft.

All of these should have been laid down before the end of the last financial year. But of all, only the lesser vessels originally provided for are to be constructed at this time.

PEIPING RAVAGED BY VIOLENT STORM.

Poor Suffer Seriously
As City Flooded.

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE.

Peiping, To-day.

Peiping was visited yesterday afternoon by a violent rainstorm, lasting two hours. Accompanied by a lashing wind, the deluge caused heavy damage, flooding the streets, interrupting communications and doing havoc to the crops.

Numerous dwellings were flooded, especially those of the poorer classes, who have suffered much hardship.

While the storm raged, trams and other transport was suspended. Thousands were marooned where they were caught in the storm. The electric and telephone services were suspended. The storm ceased with the same suddenness with which it began. The sun broke wanly from the leaden clouds and the city came to life again.

Rain continued in the evening, accompanied by lightning and thunder. Many houses collapsed and trees were propped.

Mr. Han Fu-shu, left for Tientsin at 8 a.m. but, owing to the torrential rains flooding the track south of Tientsin, his special train was delayed. Trains on the Peiping-Hankow Railway were also delayed.—Reuter.

GERMANY MAY LEAVE ARMS CONFERENCE

EQUALITY OF RIGHTS
DEMAND OF STATE

NEGOTIATIONS URGED

NATIONS PASS SECTIONS ON LIMITATIONS.

London, To-day.

During discussion by the General Commission of the Disarmament Conference at Geneva of a draft resolution, on which the Conference is to adjourn, the German delegate, Herr Nodoby, read a declaration from his Government to the effect that Germany could not promise to participate in the second phase of the Conference unless, during the recess, her demands for equality of rights were considered in negotiations between the interested Governments.

He said that Germany was ready immediately to enter into such negotiations. After expressing dissatisfaction with the terms of the resolution, the declaration added that the Conference proceedings, and notably the conversations during the last few days, had given the impression that the necessary condition of equality was not yet understood or admitted by all the Governments. The German Government's collaboration was not possible unless the future work of the Conference was developed upon a basis of clear-cut recognition of equality of rights among nations.

In earlier proceedings a section of the resolution proposing a limitation of unit tonnage of tanks was passed after a Russian amendment for abolition had been defeated.

The section dealing with abolition of gas and bacteriological warfare was agreed to and the section providing for establishing a permanent Disarmament Conference was also adopted.

Speaking on the proposal for the reduction of armaments' expenditure the British delegate, Sir Herbert Samuel made a strong plea for such reduction and added that between 1925 and 1930, Britain had reduced her expenditure on armaments by 15 per cent. Her total reduction during the past ten years amounted to 20 per cent. It was essential that the Conference should not give more reductions than already made when recommending further budgetary limitation. This section of the resolution was adopted.

Sir John Simon made an earnest appeal to delegates to vote for the resolution by an overwhelming majority, as it represented the maximum concessions which could be made at this time. No one had a right to reject the resolution merely because it did not go far enough.—British Wireless Service.

Mr. Kwok Chuen suffered slight injuries from the impact. The car was damaged to the extent of $250.

Roof Of Factory At Hunghom Collapses.

BOULDER FALLS FROM HILLSIDE.

The heavy rains yesterday is stated to have caused a boulder, weighing 200 cwts., to become dislodged from the hillside near the Ellis Kadorie School. It is believed to have fallen on an aged Chinese man, Lam Cheung (70) who was found by the Police lying at the rear of 122 Queen's Road West, suffering from injuries to his legs. He was removed to the Government Civil Hospital.

DWELLING COLLAPSES IN KOWLOON.

Occupants Absent At The Time.

A single-storey house collapsed in Kowloon City District yesterday. Although not attended by any fatality, the crash caused alarm. It was due to the heavy rainfall. It was a house, No. 107, Main Street, in a block of old buildings, and was occupied by working class Chinese, who were away at their work at the time. Police arrived on the scene, and took every precaution to ensure safety to the adjoining buildings. It is feared that if the rain continued, further collapses may occur.

Wrinkle Remedies To Remember

Value Of Olive Oil Not Forgotten.

SIMPLE TREATMENTS.

The skin which wrinkles most rapidly is usually the fine sensitive skin of the thin woman who worries.
Platitude though it may be, there is no doubt that the woman who has overcome the worry habit, and who manages to maintain a quiet contented mind, the woman who will keep her face unwrinkled.

French-women keep their faces
unlined far longer than their British sisters, and they attribute this to the lavish use of olive oil in cooking. A tablespoonful of olive oil taken each day does wonders to wards making the skin smooth and unwrinkled.

An excellent local treatment can be given thus: Soak pads of cotton wool in a glass of very hot water to which a teaspoonful of salt has been added, apply the pads to the wrinkle parts as hot as can be borne, and leave for fifteen minutes. Dry with a soft towel, and massage with this cream, which can be prepared at home.

Oil of sweet almonds 2 drachms.
Cocoa butter 4 drachms.
Lanoline 2 ounces
Glycerine 2 drachms.
Melt the cocoa butter and lanoline by standing the jar in a pan of hot water on the stove. Add the oil of almonds slowly, stirring all the time, and finally the glycerine.
Pour into pots while still liquid.

Lines and wrinkles can be made temporarily invisible by means of a complexion mask made of white of egg. Smear the whisked egg-white over the face before lying down to rest, keep the face in repose for half-an-hour, then wash off the mask with cold water. This is a splendid treatment before a party, but it should not be given more than once a week.

To improve wrinkled eyelids,
open and shut the eyes deliberately a hundred times a day, moving the lids as though they were heavily weighted.

Wedding Gowns Offer Elegant Simplicity

Paris Is Sponsoring Cape
Sleeves

Moulded Lines Prevail

Here comes the bride!
When the Mendelssohn march peals forth and all eyes are strained to catch a glimpse of Her Highness the Bride, then the efforts everybody has put forth to make her look her best will reap their reward.

This year only your own lack of imagination can keep you from being the loveliest bride on earth.
Wedding gowns are simply ravishing. They make you look slim, fragile, young—everything a bride should be.

You can have an all lace dress, satin with lace, crepe plain or with lace, triple sheer crepe, chiffon mousseline de sole or any of the gorgeous imported stuffs of which such gowns are fashioned.

Whatever the fabric that you choose for this gown of gowns, here are some fashion points that you should know for this trip to the altar:

1. Long sleeves fashion most of the wedding gowns this year, nine-tenths, at least. Some lace gowns have long-sleeved jackets.

2. It is smart as can be to have lace sleeves, or lace cuffs on sleeves, or some kind of fancy work. But no wedding gown sleeves are fly-away. Straight, long, demure sleeves are worn, though some do bow out at the elbow.

3. Necklines are high in the back and simply cut in front. V necks are universally becoming, round
necks are cute on youngsters, square necks are distinguished, and the heart-shaped rounding necks that points and then widens is good on some brides.

4. Moulded lines prevail, putting the waistline wherever the bride wants it.

5. Floor-length is the style for formal weddings, toe-length for the gown that doesn't have a train.

One of the most stunning bridal gowns this season is Callot's classic white satin, in a delicate off-white tone, made with real rose point lace. It is shown in the sketch on this page.

It exquisitely moulds the figure, with a low-pointed basque made by an unusual diagonal cut of the material that folds its upper edges of the skirt back. It has a charming neckline, with sleeves of the white satin to high cap height and the rose point lace applied upon to fashion the tight, long sleeves.

The little cap is of the real lace, too, and the long tulle veil is cut gracefully to reach the floor gradually and trail the very long train.
This train is cut as the skirt's back, extending to great length.

Her attendant, the maid of honour, wears a pale rose mousseline de sole, its sole trimming being rows and rows and more rows of fine shirring. It has the cutest jacket on earth, the shirring being allowed to flare from high caps to make the fullest and most charming short sleeves imaginable.

She carries a muff of tiny petals of blue mousseline de sole, looking almost chenille, so fine are these little petals cut. The pink hat is trimmed with these petals, too.
There is a blue slip under the pink gown, for it is a pink and blue wedding.

Mother wears the loveliest costume for an older woman, a stunning rose beige dress of chiffon and lace, with one of the new three-quarters jackets. Paris is sponsoring, and cape sleeves to make it even more graceful than it is. The hat is brown, as are her pumps.
The diminutive flower girl wears

Playing down wind with approach clubs, do not take the wind too much into account. The mental impression is that one is always going to hit the ball too far. The result of this mental impression is that as one gets to the ball one unconsciously slows down the swing. Having selected your club, dismiss the wind from your mind, and play the shot as firmly and as crisply as if you were playing that shot on a still day.—Henry Cotton.

HINTS
for BATHERSMake Sure You Are Safe Bathing.

(By Sid G. Hedges).
Most of the secret of safe bathing lies solely in bathing at the right time and in the right place. Never go into the water directly after a meal; always allow two hours at least for digestion. This advice is constantly being given and constantly remaining unheeded.

Never take your dip when you are cooling off after being very hot; nor in the sea when the tide is going out. Nor, of course, when you are absolutely alone.

Bathe only in recognised bathing places. Don't plunge in at any attractive but unfamiliar piece of coast. There may be dangerous currents and all sorts of unexpected perils.

Though it is fairly easy to ensure your own safety in normal circumstances, yet accidents do happen. For instance, cramp may seize you suddenly and quite unexpectedly. If this ever happen to you, remember that panic is your greatest danger. Keep calm, and you will probably be able to get to land, or to support yourself until help arrives.

Should you ever get caught in weeds, don't struggle and so entangle yourself still more, but paddle yourself gently clear of danger, drifting along with the stream.

In getting into a boat from the water, never attempt to clamber over the side or you may capsize it; get in at the stern.

Rescuing Others.
Suppose someone else is in danger—what shall you do? Everything depends on circumstances. It may be possible to organise a human chain, with a number of people clasping hands, and so stretching out to the place required. Or you may be able to throw out some support like a lifeboat, piece of timber, empty petrol tin, or something of the kind. S.O. out and encourage the person who is in danger. He is not likely to sink if only he will keep his arms down, in the water and avoid futile struggling.

If, however, you decide to swim out to the rescue, you should approach the drowning person, very cautiously. Do not give him the chance of clutching you; and if you should get seized, don't have any hesitation in using whatever means may be necessary to regain your freedom. You may often fend off an attack of a frantic person by bringing your feet forward and driving them against him. But it is better in such circumstances to "stand by" for a moment or two until he has become quieter.

The simplest way of towing a person to safety is to swim on your back, gripping him by the arms just above his elbows, and so holding him face upwards above you and pulling him along head-first.

To assist a tired swimmer who remains perfectly calm, you can use the ordinary breast-stroke, pushing him along in front of you as he lies on his back with hands on your shoulders and legs beneath your chest.

A WHOLE WEEK'S NEWSPAPERS IN ONE.

Two Chinese were killed and two others seriously injured, following a terrific explosion and fire aboard the Jardine's s.s. Chip Shing, moored at the Standard Oil Company's wharf, Laichikok, on July 15. The ship, at the time of the outbreak, was loading benzine for transhipment to Amoy. The fire occurred at 8.45 a.m., and panic broke out among the stunned folk and coolies, following the blast. The fire which originated in the No. 2 hold, was extinguished by 10.30 o'clock. The European members of the crew fortunately managed to make good their escape from the conflagration. A full story is published in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

Madame Tsai Ting-kai, the wife of General Tsai Ting-kai, Commander-in-Chief of the famous 19th Route Army, distributed the awards at the prize distribution of the Tai Tung College in the King's Theatre, July 17. Some 3,000 persons attended the function. Mr. H. C. Ching, B.A., presented the report, stating that on the whole, the year under review could be described as prosperous and successful. He dwelt on the increasing number of students, applying for admission to the College. A report is given in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

Although Mr. M. K. Lo's motion for reforms in the local system of refuse removal, suggesting the trial of a new type of garbage truck which would make impossible the shedding of refuse, was termed by Mr. G. R. Sayer, Head of the Sanitary Department "an absolute libel on our service," it was nevertheless passed by a vote of five to three at a meeting of the Sanitary Board held on July 19. The meeting, which was characterised by sharp exchanges between Mr. Lo and Mr. Sayer (Chairman), is fully reported in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

An appeal against a judgment awarded to Mrs. Chuk Shuk for $42,000, against the Banque Franco-Chinoise given in March last year, by Mr. Justice Wood, engaged the attention of the Full Court of Appeal on July 18. On the Bench were Judge Sir Peter Grain, of Shanghai, Sir Joseph Kemp, K.C., Chief Justice of Hong Kong, and Mr. Justice Wood. The case, which is proceeding, is reported in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

There is no phase of the life of the Colony or of China that does not receive attention in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL — the weekly paper that YOU MUST ORDER NOW.

NAIDU COMPARED
WITH BRADMAN.Delights in Unorthodox Hitting.

STYLISH AND GRACEFUL.

Writing of C. K. Naidu's brilliant century against the M.C.C. at Lords, the special correspondent of The Observer says:—

Naidu is a big man, but there is nothing heavy about his action, and his strength lies in speed. His attitude of indolence changes in a flash and he hits with thrilling ferocity. He delights, too, in placing the ball with impudent deliberation to large empty spaces hitherto unperceived. J. C. White was forced to place two men deep on the leg side to stop his pull drive; but he could not police the whole of the on-side, so Naidu patted and pushed the ball everywhere between mid-on and fine leg. When V. W. C. Jupp came on to bowl off-spinners to a leg-trap, without a slip, we were treated to some pretty cutting.

Naidu reached his 50 in seventy minutes. After lunch, Bowes and Jupp kept him on the defensive for a time, and so his second 50 took a little longer. After he had reached ninety, the light got very bad, and Bowes bowled several balls just short of a length that stood up. Naidu got over these and played them down through the slips with the ease of Ranjitsinhji himself. Naidu has been called "The Indian Bradman," but he could scarcely be more unlike Bradman in his methods for, instead of hitting the ball where it asks to be hit, he takes a perverse pleasure in the unorthodox. Not once in his three hours at the wickets did he show us a really straight drive, and he rarely attempted to hit Jupp through the leg-side field.

Describing the same match The Manchester Guardian report says the honours were carried off by Naidu, the "Bradman" of India, who, fortunate in being let off when 17 from a chance of stumping, stayed for the rest of the time to score 110 in three hours. His batting was stylish and graceful, but, above all, he drove with refreshing freedom and power, and placed the ball with great skill. He also made some late cuts and chop strokes, while he turned the ball neatly to leg. Although he gave two difficult chances in the slips when the light was bad, these did not detract from the merit of his innings.

AMERICAN WIN IN THE SOLENT.British-American Cup Won
By 26½ Points To 10.

London, To-day.

America secured the first four places in the British-American Cup Yachting contest for six-metre craft in the Solent yesterday.

Lucie, Bobkat, Jill and Nancy claimed the first four places in that order and helped materially towards America's grand total of 26½ points to Britain's 10.—Reuter.

F. R. Brown is going to be a great success in Australia, and should benefit by the harder wickets "down under."—A. E. R. Gilligan.

American Swimmers Set Up
New World Records

Helen Madison Again Successful

New York, July 18.

Miss Eleanor Hoffmann and Miss Helen Madison, famous American swimmers, established two new world swimming records for ladies yesterday, while training for the Olympic games.

Miss Hoffmann covered 100 metres on the back in 18.1/5 seconds, while Miss Madison, who is the holder of ten world records, swam 400 metres free style in 5 minutes, 32.2/5 seconds, bettering the previous record held by Miss Nottelus, by 5 seconds.

Burgoo King Lame

MAY BE IDLE FOR MONTHSInjury Believed To Be Bowed Tendon.

NOTICED AFTER WORK-OUT

New York, June 26.

E. R. Bradley's Burgoo King, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness and thus far the outstanding 3-year-old of the year, is definitely out of the $50,000 Arlington Classic, it became known yesterday.

On the eve of being shipped West to Chicago for the American Derby, which is to be run at Washington Park Saturday, Burgoo King has gone lame.

It is believed that the famous son of Bubbling Over has bowed a tendon in front. He has been examined by a veterinarian, and while no positive announcement has been made, horsemen are unanimous in the assertion that Burgoo King will be thrown out of the racing for several months unless a completely unexpected recovery occurs.

Made History for Owner.

Mr. Bradley could not be reached, as he was the week-end guest of James Butler at the latter's home. H. J. (Dick) Thompson, trainer of the colt, was not at the stable late yesterday when visitors called.

Burgoo King made history for Mr. Bradley when he gave the mar of Idle Hour Farm his third Kentucky Derby victory last month. The colt always has been of a delicate constitution, and only great skill on the part of Thompson enabled the son of Bubbling Over to win the Derby and the Preakness a week apart.

Burgoo King, a poor mud-runner, was defeated in the Withers, as many had expected, because the race was run over a soft track.

Since that test, Burgoo King has been pointed for the American Derby and the Arlington Classic, the latter to be run on July 16 at Arlington Park, Chicago.

Brought Out for Last Work-out. He was brought on the track at Belmont yesterday morning to be given his final Eastern prep before being loaded on the cars. Burgoo King was observed by many to run below what was expected and an examination of the colt as he left the track indicated that he had fallen lame.

The setback to Burgoo King's campaign will be only temporary, it is hoped by his many admirers. Since the son of Bubbling Over is a young horse, it is believed that he has many days of successful competition before him.

Jardine and Wyatt are both leaders by virtue of the office which is theirs for the moment—not by divine right. Unfortunately there are no born leaders of men in cricket at the present time.—"Cricketeer," in the Manchester Guardian.

AMERICA WINS YACHTING
CONTEST.Fourth Successive Win in The British-American Cup.

America to-day won the British-American Cup when she secured her fourth successive victory at Cowes.

Bobkat and Jill, both American craft, finished in the leading positions, while Vorsas (Britain) was third, and Nancy (America) fourth.

America thus won the Cup by 24½ points to 12.—Reuter.

EX-PROFESSIONALS
AND DAVIS CUP.Now Not Eligible
To Compete.

L. T. A. RESOLUTION.

Palmieri's Great Aid
To Italy.

London, June 29.

Among matters discussed yesterday at the annual meeting held in London of Davis Cup national delegates was, it is understood, the action of the Italian Lawn Tennis Federation in including G. Palmieri, a former professional, in their Davis Cup team.

Palmieri had been officially nominated by the Italian governing body to play at Wimbledon, and his name was drawn; but he did not compete.

Switzerland, defeated by Italy in the Davis Cup at Montreux, had previously raised the question in Paris of Palmieri's eligibility. In that contest Palmieri, by beating C. F. Aeschliman in the singles, gave Italy the victory by three matches to two.

While only amateurs, according to the existing Davis Cup regulations, are qualified to represent a nation, there was no specific rule to exclude professionals who might have been reinstated as amateurs. The conditions for reinstatement are not at present common to all countries, but the International Federation (which, by the way, only authorises the Davis Cup, but does not manage it) has accepted the principle that the reinstatement of a player, like his demateurisation, shall be universally accepted. The International Federation leaves to each national unit the sole right of determining the status of its own players.

Yesterday's meeting passed a resolution unanimously decreeing that no player who had at any time forfeited his amateur status should be eligible to compete in the Davis Cup.

ASCOT ESCAPE
SEQUEL.Banned Reported To Be Dangerous.

THREW STEVE DONOGHUE.

London, June 17.

Banned the horse who has taken a violent dislike to his jockey's colours, has been reported to the Stewards of the Jockey Club as dangerous.

At Ascot on Tuesday he threw Steve Donoghue and did not come under the starter's orders. On Wednesday C. Ray was given the mount, and after he had been twice thrown the horse galloped riderless for nearly half a mile. Then he was caught by a spectator and was trotted back to the paddock.

The Ascot Stewards held an inquiry into the incidents and yesterday's issue of the Racing Calendar states:

"As a result of the behaviour of Banned before the Queen Anne Stakes and the Churchill Stakes at Ascot, the Stewards interviewed Major Lewis and H. Powney, the trainer, and informed them that they must report to the Stewards of the Jockey Club that they considered the horse dangerous to the jockeys who rode him and to the public."

NEW TROPHY FOR COWES.Queen's Gift To R.Y.S.

Cowes, June 29.

The Queen has presented a cup to the Royal Yacht Squadron for a race during Cowes week.

This extra Royal trophy is for a handicap event for yachts owned by members of the Royal Yacht Squadron of 15 tons register and upwards, which are ineligible for his Majesty's cup.

It will be competed for on Tuesday, August 2, the same day as the King's Cup, conditions for which were altered last year.

Instead of being confined to Squadron yachts, His Majesty's trophy is now open to any British yacht of not exceeding 500 tons register.

SHIREEN WINS KING'S CUP
AT GOUROCK.His Majesty's Congratulations
To Mr. Lawton.

London, June 27.

Seven boats took part on Saturday in the 12th annual handicap race for the Cup presented by the King to the Royal Gourock Yacht Club for competition among artisan owners. The race was won by Shireen, belonging to Mr. O. E. Lawton, of the Cardwell Bay Sailing Club.

A telegram was sent to Buckingham Palace conveying the result and the following was received from the King's private secretary:—"Please convey to Mr. Lawton the King's congratulations on winning His Majesty's Cup to-day."

WORLD SPORTS

SUZANNE STORY.

THIS year's Wimbledon reminds one of a good story relating to Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the infant prodigy at the age of fifteen. A few weeks after the Great War commenced her home at Compiègne was shell-ridden. She, however, went out into the street to meet the advancing Germans. A German officer, obviously a keen sportsman, saluted the small citizeness. "You are the little Suzanne, unless I am mistaken," he said in excellent French. "I beg of you to quit immediately while there is time." Suzanne took this good advice, but not before she had buried the championship cup which she had won at Lille and which she returned to win outright four and a half years later.

Burghley's Future.

Lord Burghley is finding it difficult to combine business, politics and hunting, and is undecided whether he will retire from the track after the Olympic Games. This year he captains the British side, and it is hoped that this will not mark the last appearance of a famous and popular athlete. In an interview Lord Burghley said that he was fortunate not to require much training, and as to his retirement he could make no statement as yet.

Wanderers in Practice.

The Wanderers, under the keen captaincy of L. A. R. Duncan, are the only European civilian team to play hockey during the Summer. They are practising assiduously in order to meet the All-India Olympic hockey team on their return from Los Angeles in August.

Inman to Retire.

Melbourne Inman has decided to retire from the arena of first-class billiards. In the early post-war years he was the English champion. He has now accepted a managerial billiards post in the Midlands.

Cochet on Tour.

Henri Cochet, the world's best tennis player who was eliminated in the Second Round at Wimbledon this year, proposes to tour Australia in October. He will be accompanied by his brother-in-law, Andre Merlin, another French player to achieve fame. They will also give exhibition matches at the Olympic Games during their tour of America, after which they will travel through Australia, New Zealand and Japan.

Vines' Service.

Jack Crawford, Australia's leading tennis player, said that Ellsworth Vines, the new Wimbledon champion, possessed a fine service, which "kicks" or breaks over his opponent's left shoulder, and that he was also a marvellous driver.

The tragic death of John Thompson, the Celtic goalkeeper, less than a year ago has been recalled by an exactly similar tragedy when Alexander Crickbank, the Strathclyde goalkeeper, died at the foot of the opposing centre forward, and was carried off with a fractured skull. Little hope was entertained from the start, and the operation proved unsuccessful.

Allison's Versatility

BRINGS DEFEAT TO PERNAMBUCO.Clean Sweep Davis Cup Victory.

VAN RYN'S GREAT FORM.

Brazilians Overwhelmed
By Youthful Stars.

New York, June 12.

With victory already sealed in the first three matches, the United States Davis Cup team defeated Brazil in the remaining two contests of the "American Interzone" final at the West Side Tennis Club in Forest Hills yesterday to score a clean sweep victory and to complete its campaign on this side of the Atlantic with a perfect record.

Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, and John Van Ryn of East Orange, who clinched the series on Friday by winning the doubles, turned in the final two victories by defeating, respectively, Ricardo Pernambuco and Ivo Simonini in singles.

Allison, whose performances throughout the Davis Cup season have been of so sterling a character as to warrant serious consideration of his candidacy for a singles berth in the European ties, gave a masterful exhibition of versatility in the exploitation of the drop shot and lob in defeating Pernambuco, 6-1, 6-2, 6-0.

Against the unrelieved speed of Shields, the undemonstrative Brazilian ace showed to excellent advantage. Yesterday, however, opposed to an opponent who could hit with the rapacity of Shields, but who constantly interpolated trap shots, chops and high-arching parabolas in a consummate demonstration, Pernambuco could neither maintain control nor get adequate speed or depth on his ground strokes.

Simonini, substituting for Nelson Cruz, fared no better in the final match against Van Ryn, who replaced Frank Shields, losing at 6-2, 6-0, 6-0. A more colourful and energetic player than his teammate, but lacking the other's finish and co-ordination in his stroking, Simonini kept the gallery in high spirits with his acrobatic court-covering as Van Ryn kept him scrambling from the baseline to the net and back again.

While he occasionally got in a telling thrust from the net and made striking recoveries in the back of the court, Simonini could not withstand the power of the American attack and dropped thirteen games in a row after the score had stood at 5-2 in the first set.

Team to Rest Few Days. The American team will rest for a few days and on Tuesday night, Allison, Van Ryn and Shields will sail on the Europa for England.

After competing in the Wimbledon championships, in which they will be joined by Ellsworth Vines, who is now abroad, they will go to Paris and prepare to meet the winning team in the European zone.

A number of the Brazilian players, including Pernambuco, will remain in this country to gain further experience in tournament competition.

At the conclusion of the matches yesterday, Sebastiao Sampaio, Brazilian Consul General, expressed his own and the Brazilian players' appreciation of the good sportsmanship and friendly feeling which had been shown to the South Americans. They were particularly grateful, he said, for their treatment by the press.

CARACIOLA WINS
GERMAN GRAND PRIX

Nuvolari Second.

Berlin, July 18.

The German automobile speed ace, Rudolph Caraciola, won the Reich's Grand Prix on an Alfa Romeo yesterday.

The Italians, Nuvolari and Borzacchini, both on Alfa Romeo cars, came in second and third, respectively.

The second part of the race witnessed a fierce duel between the German champion and the Italian racer who came in only 39 seconds behind Caraciola.

The total distance of the race was 520 Km. and was covered at an average speed exceeding 120 k.p.h.

Hobbs' Record Incident.

A curious incident preceded Jack Hobbs' record innings against Essex. Just before he reached his century he chopped a ball which shot off the ground to Daer in the slips. A slight pause ensued before Daer appeared for a catch. The umpire gave the batsman the benefit of the doubt, but in doing so slightly raised his left hand. Hobbs, thinking he had been given out, walked out of his crease and on the umpire's warning was only just able to regain his ground in time. In this match Hobbs scored two separate centuries for the sixth time in his career, thus breaking C. B. Fry's record.

Mead's Ambition.

Philip Mead, who had scored a century against every county except Derbyshire at the commencement of the season, gave Hampshire a great triumph when he scored 104 not out in the second innings when his side were set 304 runs to win with four hours' play before them. Hampshire, thanks to Mead's effort and a century from Arnold, beat Derbyshire by six wickets.

Two Hat Tricks.

What is claimed to be a Public School cricket record was accomplished by F. W. Mason, a slow right-hand bowler, who, playing for King's School, Brighthelm, took 6 wickets for 19 runs twice securing the hat-trick.

TOM WALLS WAGERS ON APRIL THE FIFTH.Will Beat Orwell If They Meet Again.

Tom Walls, the owner-trainer of the Derby winner, April the Fifth, has accepted a wager of 50 guineas that when next they meet his colt will again beat the Manton champion Orwell, and the loser of the wager is to pay 50 guineas to the Royal Veterinary College Fund.

SWIMMING.

DOWNWARD PULL
AND ARM STROKE.Leg Action Powerful
And Extremely Wide.

CARTONNET, THE FRENCH HOPE

France first, England second, Scotland third; so finished the race for the 200 yards breast-stroke championship of England at the Hoylake open-air bath.

Jacques Cartonnet, who retained his title, was a worthy winner, and, though his time of 2 mins. 39 secs. does not look well on paper against Stanley Bell's 2 min. 36.4-5 secs. for the A. S. A. record the conditions were altogether different.

The London swimmer put up his time in a 25 yards indoor bath, whereas at Hoylake it was a fifty yards course and the breaker water none too warm.

The Frenchman strikes one as an ideal breast-stroke swimmer, with his deep chest and fine shoulders. He has an unusual way of starting, for he does not come to the surface immediately after his dive, but swims for another few yards under water, and this method seems to get him well under way.

Though Bell gained on him down the last length, Cartonnet was always master of the situation. He is the best breast-stroke swimmer that has visited Britain from France, and there have been several five or six having already won this English championship.

Cartonnet uses a very strong downward pull in the arm stroke and his leg action is powerful and extremely wide. He is just now undergoing his military training in Paris, but will be released for the Olympic Games, where he seems certain to be well placed.

CARNERA GETS
SLAPPED IN PARIS BAREscape's Girl's Attack
By Clever Footwork.

Paris, July 1.

Primo Carnera, the giant Italian boxer, has had his face slapped by a diminutive dancing girl, according to a story current in Paris.

The name of the girl is given as Miss Mickey Devine, a dancer from New York. It was impossible to get Carnera's own version of the incident, as he left for Milan soon after it.

A number of witnesses of the scene say that it occurred in a bar in the Champs Elysees.

Shortly after Carnera and the girl had been introduced they appeared to have an argument concerning the fight in which Carnera beat Maurice Grisselle, the French heavy-weight.

Carnera was heard to remark, "I do not argue with women."

"Is that so?" replied the girl, who then slapped the boxer on the face several times.

By some fast footwork Carnera then removed himself from the girl's reach.

Finnish Athletes May Not Compete In Games

Disqualification of "Flying Finn"

Helsingfors, July 17.

Keen indignation has been aroused in athletic circles here by a cable from New York stating that the Swede, Edstrom, president of the International Athletic Union, on arrival there declared that the Finnish track ace, Paavo Nurmi, must remain disqualified since the Finnish Association has not cleared up satisfactorily the incidents which led to his losing the amateur status.

It is emphasized here that if Nurmi is not allowed to participate in the Olympic Games, the whole Finnish team will be withdrawn.

Tedious Disarmament Conference.

After months of debate which has been almost futile, the Disarmament Conference still drags wearily on and it is now apparent that the representatives of the major Powers are fighting strenuously to save it being a complete failure because of their realization of the serious consequences of any such failure. If the present Conference is fruitless the race for armaments will continue and the already almost insurmountable difficulties of the pacifists would be greatly increased. Most nations are prepared to reduce their armaments, but the conditions attached to their agreements, combined with the refusals of other nations hinder any successful conclusion being reached. The requirements of the different countries vary to a large degree and the fears of some countries, notably France, are further handicaps to those who are striving for agreement. At many stages it appeared that a complete failure would result and even the optimistic chairman, Mr. Arthur Henderson, became gloomy. Italy, France, Great Britain and the United States have arrived at an understanding on matters such as the abolition of chemical warfare, air bombardments, etc., but a unanimous agreement is still lacking. Japan has refused to sacrifice any standing in naval armaments, while France is obstinate in insisting on her needs for a tremendous Army and Air Force. A new hitch has arisen through Germany's dissatisfaction of the Lausanne Conference and the demand for equality will result in fresh opposition from France. The many world problems are so inter-related that statesmen hesitate to dissociate any one issue, with the result that Disarmament is treated not as a sole issue but as one of many matters requiring remedy. The consequent spirit of bargaining adds to the complex nature of the difficulties, while any concession that is made by any delegate carries attached conditions which are most unattractive, as was apparent to the other delegates of the conference. The delegates, middle away, groping with a mass of problems which offer little solution. The Disarmament Conference is only one of many of these international gatherings and before Lausanne and the other meetings it has gradually faded in importance, and a weary public has relegated it to the long list of conferences which are of little consequence. An absolute failure would, however, create a most unfavourable reaction and the delegates are now concentrating on effecting some agreement, which while of little immediate value, would leave the way open for subsequent negotiation.

SOVIET PRODUCTION OF AUTOMOBILES.Production Forced By Harsh Methods.

Riga, July 5.

The Commissar for Heavy Industry in Soviet Russia has ordered 21 metal works in Leningrad, the Urals, and the Ukraine to cease other work to assist the great Stalin Motor-car Works—formerly the "Amo"—in Moscow, where scarcity of materials and special parts brought about a cessation of regular production recently. The Commissar lays down dates for the delivery of specified quantities by each factory, and invests 21 special directors with extraordinary powers to increase production, threatening each director with personal punishment if deliveries are delayed.

Between January and June the Stalin works turned out 5,318 motor-cars, but since the first week of June they have had 10 blank days, having exhausted available materials. The Stalin tractor works (which are regarded as among the most successful industrial enterprises of Soviet Russia and which until recently produced more than 100 tractors daily) are also in difficulties from the same cause, and have closed for two or three weeks, all the employees being ordered to take their annual holidays simultaneously.

The Kharkoff tractor works interrupted output in the middle of June owing to scarcity of materials, but resumed this week. The motor-car work at Nizhni Novgorod are still unable to start regular production, but succeeded in producing 100 incomplete motor-cars at the beginning of this week.

Having undergone football training for 20 years, I was curious to see Britain's heavy-weight boxing champion at work. I was greatly surprised to find that Reggie Meen's quarters continued up to the luxury apartment, and not over the hazy training quarters. Meen's wife charged me with the duty of Four indictments were substituted for the two original counts concerning the alleged embezzlement of $20,000 from Messrs. Gande, Price & Co., Limited, when a Japanese, named Mase Ue Tani, made his appearance before Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court yesterday afternoon.

The prosecution was conducted by Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith (Assistant Crown Solicitor), while Mr. Leo D'Almada, junior, appeared for the defence.

The first charge accused Tani of falsification of accounts to show that on March 31 the amount of $1,278.40 was outstanding against the captain and owners of the O.S.K. ship Buenos Aires Maru. He was secondly accused of uttering a forged impression of two company chops.

German Banker.

ACCOMPLICE CONVICTED.

Berlin, Yesterday.

Imprisonment for 10 years was imposed to-day on the lawyer Dr. Rosen, who was found guilty of having attacked Dr. Luther with a revolver on April 9. The youth Kertscher, who was alleged to have fired the shots, was sentenced to nine and a half months.

The affair, which was said to be the outcome of a political feud, occurred at the railway station while Dr. Luther, one of the Directors of the Reichsbank, was on his way to Bale as a member of a financial delegation.

Dr. Rosen, who was born in Buenos Aires, is said to have opposed the Reichsbank's deflation policy and had brought an unsuccessful action against the Bank for high treason and other charges. Accompanied by Kertscher and another man named Werner, he waited for the arrival of the delegation train, and attacked Dr. Luther when he stepped out. Several shots were fired, but only one took effect, causing a slight wound in the arm. Rosen and Kertscher gave themselves up but Werner escaped.—Reuter.

CHINA WOULD FIGHT

States Policy.

FEELING LESS TENSE.

Report Soviet Training Anti-Manchukuo Men.

Shanghai, Yesterday. The Japanese aerial bombardment of Chaoyang and the belief that Japan is contemplating the invasion of Jehol, has aroused strong patriotic feeling.

A meeting of the Shanghai Federation of Chinese Citizens was held yesterday afternoon, when it was decided to send representatives to Nanking to demand that the National Government take immediate steps for the defence of Jehol and North China and for the recovery of the lost territory of Manchuria.

Mr. Tseng Chung-ming, the Vice-Minister of Railways, arrived in Shanghai yesterday morning, his mission being that of soliciting the opinions of the various Government leaders in regard to the situation in Jehol.

Interviewed regarding the likely policy of the National Government concerning the Japanese invasion of Jehol, Mr. Tseng Chung-ming stated that the Nanking Government was prepared to concentrate its entire military force for the defence of Jehol and North China.—Reuter.

Peiping, Yesterday. Official circles here have sent telegrams to Tang Yu-lin, the Governor of Jehol, regarding the reported settlement of the Ishimoto Incident.

No reply has yet been received. Chinese circles, however, believe that the situation in Jehol has considerably eased and that negotiations are possible.

Tang Yu-lin's resident representative in Peiping, Tan Kuoyuan, states that the situation in Jehol is considerably eased.

Tang Yu-lin has informed the Japanese that the Jehol authorities are not responsible for the disappearance of Ishimoto, since the Japanese officer was wearing Chinese clothes when he was kidnapped by bandits; therefore the Chinese could not possibly have given him protection.

Wishing to facilitate an amicable settlement, Tang Yu-lin has agreed to assist in effecting Ishimoto's release. This is being accepted by the Japanese.—Reuter.

Exodus From Harbin. Harbin, Yesterday. The exodus of Soviet officials from Harbin continues. Three more Consular officials left for Moscow yesterday.

According to the Japanese Press, the "Manchukuo" authorities are in possession of evidence tending to prove that the Soviet Government is training soldiers belonging to the anti-Manchukuo forces, and also deserters from the "Manchukuo" Army.

It is stated that men who have expressed their willingness to be trained in Soviet Russia make their way to stipulated points on the frontier, from where they are sent to Habarovsk and Chita, at which places they undergo a period of military training. As soon as they have completed their course of instruction, they return to Manchuria, where they immediately rejoin the anti-Manchukuo forces.—Reuter.

ACTOR SOUGHT ALMS
FROM MAGISTRATE.But Got Option Of Fine Or Gaol.

Wong Shing, an actor, was arraigned before Mr. Fraser in the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday and sentenced by the very man from whom he sought alms.

The actor pleaded guilty to the begging charge, but said that he had never done such a thing before. He said that he played heroic parts at other times. He added that he had developed a toothache, and gave that as the reason for his offence.

According to Mr. Fraser, the man had accosted him on the street and asked for 20 cents. Telling him that it was wrong to beg, Mr. Fraser started to walk away but the man held on to his coat and protested himself on the ground. Striking numerous poses, much to the amusement of the court and all to no avail. Wong was fined $10 or 14 days in gaol.

ROYAL PATRONAGE O. YACHTING

King George's Enthusiasm MAGNIFICENT EXAMPLE SET BY CTER, BRITANNIA

It was announced recently that the Prince of Wales consented to become Commodore of the Royal Thames Yacht Club. A meeting of its members held on June 23 to elect his Royal Highness to the senior position of the club.

The present high standing of the sport of yachting in British waters may be said to be the Royal patronage throughout a long period of years. Since war it is directly due to the active part the King has taken in it to the magnificent example set by his cutter, Britannia," writes Major B. Heckstall-Smith in the "Daily Telegraph."

Had it not been for his restarting the sport with Britannia in 1920 — at a time when it had completely collapsed — we know when it would have been.

Britannia's Part. It is almost forgotten now, but the position of the yacht had been broken up for a long time, the lead from the keel others had been removed during war, whilst those that were left with speed had been sold by English owners to yachtsmen in Scandinavian countries. The building since 1914 had risen 250 per cent., and people wonder where the new yachts were to come from.

At the moment of the crisis the King brought out the old Britannia. In 1920 she was more or less a cruiser rigged, she had little resemblance to what she is now. She held a stumpy mast and high bulwarks, and seemed a bit out of date. Of course, all that has changed long ago. A few sporting owners came forward and made up a class to race against the King's yacht. It is a matter of history how Britannia sailed far better than anyone expected, and her renovation followed.

With it the whole sport revived. Hammers began to sound in the yacht building yards. Small classes grew up. International races of Six Metres were begun with the Americans, and in a few seasons the entire sport was in a stronger position than it had been for years. It is a very strange thing — indeed, quite unique, scientifically and socially — that two revivals in the sport of yachting twenty-eight years apart should be attributable to the same vessel.

I can remember when everybody was saying in 1892 that big-class yachting was dead and would never be revived. "Nobody" will ever build another cutter bigger than a 40 footer. That was what they said in 1892. They called the late John Jameson's Lorna, which had been built a few years before, "the last of the big cutters."

Prince's Luck. Then the Prince of Wales (King Edward), in 1893, ordered the Britannia to be designed and built in Scotland, and she was far larger than the Lorna. A class of vessels was built in Britain and America which eclipsed all the big cutters of previous history.

That was how Britannia revived the sport in 1893, and history was repeated by her when she "came again" in 1920.

But surely King Edward as Prince of Wales was lucky. For everybody knows there is a great element of luck in building racing yachts.

The scientific designer does his utmost in the face of tremendous competition, but he may or may not produce a real beauty. But George Watson turned out the best of all in 1893 for the Prince of Wales with Britannia, and what is more, after thirty-nine years she is a real good 'un to this day. It was not only luck for the Prince, but it was a miraculous piece of good fortune for the whole sport of yachting.

King Edward's Yacht. In his younger days King Edward, when Prince of Wales, had never been fortunate with his racing yachts. He owned the schooners Hildegarde and Atlas and the cutter Formosa. The schooners never did much under his racing colours, although the Prince won the Queen's Cup with Hildegarde in 1872 and with Formosa in 1880, but the first-class cutter Formosa was generally beaten by the Bangor and Vandana. His luck changed with Britannia.

I venture to hope that some day the time will come when the Prince of Wales will own a racing yacht

BAILEY AND CO. PLAN NEW SLIPWAY

Fine Drydock Will Be Constructed.

AT COST OF $1,200,000

This slipway will be of the most modern design and solid construction and with every facility for cheap and efficient repair of vessels. The underwater work will be carried out in the "dry" enclosed by Larssen Sheet Piling for absolute fairness and reliability of the slipway, the concrete piles supporting the standing ways being closely spaced, and 20 inches square by 55 feet long. The work will cost roughly $1,200,000.

The hauling gear will be electrically driven with current from the China Light & Power Co., Ltd. at 6,600 volts, reduced by a transformer to 350 volts for use of all the slipways and other requirements of the shipyard. The contract time for the work is 18 months. Messrs. Bailey are also enlarging their existing slipways and will have in all five slipways to take from small launches to coasting vessels, and their yard will be most efficiently equipped throughout to meet any competition either in price or quality of work.

Messrs. Bailey & Co. have in the past 32 years designed and built over 300 river steamers and motor vessels, tug boats, barges, etc., and have sent vessels either under their own power or in pieces for reconstruction to Manila, Shanghai, Singapore and as far as Vancouver and Vladivostok. The company have recently designed and built for McDermott Gorman, Inc., Canton, special barges for blasting and dredging work on the river bottom at Canton and in connection with the new bridge at Kung Yik. Messrs. Bailey being expert advisers and designers of vessels or machinery for any purpose, readily deal with engineering and general work and repairs of every description, both large and small.

CENTRAL THEATRE.

"Murders in The Rue Morgue."

To those sensation-seekers who have seen the thriller "Dracula" and the greater thriller, "Frankenstein," the Central Theatre's production, "Murders in The Rue Morgue," Universal's talking picture, now showing at the Central Theatre will be just an ordinary show. Perhaps the corse mortuary will thrill a little. The screams of agony (they are not very frequent) a helpless girl in the hands of Dr. Mirakle in his study — where he is trying to mix the blood of a monstrous ape with a beautiful woman are blood-curdling enough.

Universal in producing this film have not kept to the letter of Edgar Allan Poe's sensational book. Directed by William Florey, with very creditable photography, especially towards the end, "Murders in The Rue Morgue" has its settings in Paris, in 1845. The mysterious deaths of three women, allegedly by drowning, sets a medical student (Laurel Wayoff) about careful research. He discovers the presence of a gorilla's blood in the bodies. Then one night his sweet heart's mother is murdered, and he is pushed up the chimney, while the girl herself is taken to Dr. Mirakle's laboratory, where she lies unconscious. In the moment of transfusing the blood from the ape, the creature turns on him and the scientist is killed.

In the role of Dr. Mirakle, Bela Lugosi, who played Dracula, is convincing, while Sydney Fox, as Camille L'Espanaye, merely looks beautiful.

FAMOUS CHINESE AVIATION.

Col. Chen Min-lin Pays Flying Visit.

Colonel Chen Min-lin, well-known Chinese aviator and head of the Chinese Aviation Administration in Fokien, arrived at the Kai Tak Aerodrome on Thursday, in an Avia-Avian plane.

Col. Chen recently flew from Fokien to Canton, travelling with an officer of the 19th Route Army, and arrived at Canton earlier this week. He encountered the gale but eventually landed safely here, and is now for Fokien as soon as the typhoon threat is over.

Importance Of Forest Policy For Empire Commodity Will Take Years To Reproduce

WEAK LINK IN CHAIN

WOOD MORE IMPORTANT THAN SUPPLY OF GOLD.

I have just returned to Canada from a three months' trip through England, Italy, France, Switzerland, Holland and Germany, more than ever convinced of the serious world shortage of wood, writes Frank Barnum.

The only weak link in the British Empire's chain of natural resources is in its limited forest area. I would respectfully suggest that our Governments could not make a wiser or more necessary move than to purchase and conserve as a reserve, every acre of forest within the Empire that can be obtained at a reasonable figure. The present time is the best and last opportunity that will occur to purchase forest lands at a moderate price. Owing to the depression, land containing mature timber can be purchased in Canada to-day for a trifling advance over the cost of planting young seedlings.

Control of a majority of the remaining available wooded areas, with the enormously advancing values which are bound very shortly to occur, would give the Empire greater prestige than control of the gold supply, for no amount of gold can replace forests within the lifetime of two generations, nor the few thousands of acres of our remaining big trees in 15 generations.

Age-Old Giants.

Personally, I am cutting short a most interesting forest investigation trip in Europe in order to be in time to purchase another tract of timber on Vancouver Island, to prevent the slaughter of age-old giants that were planted by Nature from 400 to 1,000 years ago, trees that are being ruthlessly cut down and wasted as if they were an annual crop instead of a crop that has seen some 15 to 20 generations come and go. As a matter of fact, if a farmer permitted the amount of waste in his wheat fields that now takes place in our forests, he would be considered nothing short of insane. The amazing thing is that a so-called intelligent people should allow millions of acres of mature trees to be burned up annually while they plant a few thousands of acres of seedlings that will take a hundred years to replace what they are burning up.

Wise Investment.

The securing and retaining of forested areas by the Empire is not only a national necessity, but is the wisest investment that can be made to-day, as it would be purchasing a commodity that is daily drawing nearer to the point of complete exhaustion, a commodity that will take a hundred years to reproduce, a natural resource that is as necessary to sustain life as the food that we eat and the water we drink. Governor Clifford Pinchot, that eminent forest economist, says, "Nothing that we eat or drink or wear can be produced, manufactured or transported without the aid of wood."

The over-production of all wood products to-day, in the face of a wood famine, is nothing short of criminal, for, as Dr. Robert Marshall, Ph.D., in his invaluable treatise on The Social Management of American Forests, says, "This cheapness to-day has been bought at the cost of to-morrow. Over-production, which has so degraded present prices, inevitably means a future timber shortage and a consequent acceleration of prices."

When this acceleration of wood prices once begins, which will be just as soon as the public commences buying normally again, there will be a runaway market on all wood products such as never before occurred in any other commodity. In this respect the forest is in a class by itself on account of the great length of time that it takes to raise trees, and, unlike minerals, the location of every tree on the globe is known. An alarming result of forest devastation of our wood supply, serious as it will be, is the disastrous effect it is having upon our climate. Deserts are being created, the gale winds are being safely here, and are threatening Fokien as soon as the typhoon threat is over.

and extraordinary chill by night, but they would not make desirable places in which to live or produce a living. We might possibly be able to exist without products made from wood, but not in climates devoid of trees.

Influence On Climate. Of this we have practical evidence on every hand, and, as Dr. Marshall further says, "Throughout the country the influence of the forest on climate would be a valid reason for Government regulation, because of the vast amount of water which trees return through transpiration to the atmosphere." And, again, Dr. Raphael Zon, Director of the Lake States Forest Experimental Stations in Minnesota and Northern Michigan, and one of the best known authorities in the U.S. Forest Service, says that "forests contribute more water vapour to the air than lakes and streams, and consequently are the actual rain-producing sections of a continent."

When the question is discussed as to when the actual wood famine will arrive, the fact that we are already suffering, and suffering severely from an insufficiency of forest areas, is entirely overlooked. We are spending hundreds of millions of dollars in an effort to repair the damage and loss occasioned annually through flood, famine, wind, insects, disease, drought, frost, heat and forest fires (which are increasing and will continue to increase as the country becomes drier and drier), consequently it is silly to discuss the date when our last commercial tree will be cut.

NEW NAVAL CHIEF FOR CHINA POST.

Sir Frederic Dreyer Due In January.

DISTINGUISHED CAREER.

London, Yesterday.

Vice-Admiral Sir Frederic Dreyer has been appointed to the China Station, as Commander-in-Chief, in succession to Vice-Admiral Sir Howard Kelly, as from January 1, 1933.—Reuter.

Vice-Admiral Sir Frederic Charles Dreyer, who received his Knighthood in the last Birthday Honours, has been a Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty and Deputy Chief of the Naval Staff since 1930. He was born at Parsons-town, King's County, in 1878, a son of the late Mr. J. L. E. Dreyer, President of the Royal Astronomical Society in 1923-5, and a grandson of the late Mr. John Tuthill of Killmore and Tipperary.

Entered Navy in 1891, Sir Frederic was educated at the Royal School, Armagh and entered the Royal Navy on H.M.S. Britannia in 1891. He had a distinguished naval career, and held many responsible positions.

At the outbreak of the war he was a Captain of H.M.S. Orion and was later transferred as Flag Captain to Admiral Jellicoe on the Iron Duke, taking part in the Battle of Jutland. When Viscount Jellicoe made his trip to India and the Dominions on H.M.S. New Zealand in 1919-20, he was Commander and Chief of Staff.

He was Commander of the Re-pulse in 1922, was promoted to Rear-Admiral in 1923 and Assistant Chief of the Naval Staff in 1924. He commanded the battle cruiser squadron of the Atlantic Fleet from 1927 to 1929 and was promoted to Vice-Admiral in the same year.

Sir Frederic was awarded the C.B. (civil) in 1914, and has won several other distinctions. He published a book "How to Get a First Class in Seamanship."

PRESERVING THE PROTEINS.

Grass-Drying Machines To Stop Golds.

REVOLUTIONISED FARMING.

London, July 5.

Experts at the agricultural research station of Imperial Chemical Industries here are carrying out an experiment that may revolutionise farming—and make for fewer colds!

They are drying grass by machinery.

Having discovered that to allow grass to wilt into hay is to waste two-thirds of its protein value, they have evolved a Heath Robinson machine that dries it. The machine has been christened the Jealot's Hill experimental drier.

It consists of a conveyor and a coke furnace, and all that it does is to pass hot air through the grass.

As it falls out of the machine it is as crisp as hay that has seen three days of blazing sun. But whereas the protein content of average hay is only 6 per cent, this grass boasts a full 13 per cent.

This means that artificially dried grass is three times as good as hay for feeding. It is said to be as good as meal or cake, and is going to save the farmer many pounds.

Cows thrive on it—when they are fed on it in winter their milk yield is equal to that of summer!

Anti-Colds Butter

And the butter made from this milk has that golden colour which denotes the presence of carotene. It is not the pale butter of the cow fed on ordinary hay.

Carotene is closely associated with Vitamin A, which protects us from colds.

This dried-grass butter might, therefore, be called the anti-colds butter.

Soon, then, if the engineers get busy, we may find

Farmers owning their own driers; Dries moving from farm to farm by contract.

Dried-grass factories—the grass being bought fresh and sold dried in bales.

This winter further experiments will be carried out on dairy cows, which means that just now Heath Robinson is busy every day cooking the grass that will be necessary!

SUBMARINE COLLIDES WITH STEAMER.

Passengers All Saved In Portland Harbour.

PASSENGER'S STORY.

When the new submarine Rainbow was in collision at the northern entrance to Portland Harbour with the passenger paddle-steamer Premier, which had 150 persons on board, there was never any danger to life, and all the passengers were rescued by the Rainbow or by high-speed motor-boats, which hurried to the scene.

The following official statement was made:—

"The Secretary of the Admiralty announces that while H.M.S. Rainbow was leaving Portland Harbour she came into collision with Premier, a small pleasure steamer. H.M.S. Rainbow sustained only superficial damage, but Premier was holed on the starboard side and returned to Weymouth, her passengers being transferred to H.M.S. Rainbow and subsequently landed."

Mr. Mark C. Frowde, managing director of Cosens and Co., Limited, the owners of the Premier, made the following statement:—

"My report is that the Premier was nearing the opening in the breakwater just before 3 p.m. when Captain Moore saw a submarine approaching. He immediately stopped his engine, as it was his duty to give way, but the submarine struck the Premier forward. The bulwarks were torn away and sundry other damage was done, but fortunately the Premier is a very strongly constructed vessel and no damage was done, as far as can be seen, under water. One of the company's motor-boats came alongside and filled up with passengers, while the remainder were taken aboard the submarine. The Premier proceeded towards Weymouth. There was no panic of any kind among the passengers, who left the vessel in most orderly manner."

Holidaymakers' Thrill.

"A large number of London visitors on holiday at Weymouth were on board the steamer at the time. The vessel was making a cheap cruise to see the warships in Portland Harbour, and the trip was the best patronized this season."

Mr. G. E. Nicholls, of South Lambeth, one of the passengers, stated:

"As the vessel was nearing Portland we could see the submarine inside the harbour, but she seemed miles away. When we got to the entrance the submarine was coming out. Our captain sounded his bell two or three times, but the submarine did not seem to check. He then turned the vessel sideways, when it was apparent that there would be a collision. The impact caused the Premier to heel considerably, and she swung round beside the submarine. A lot of the people scrambled for the boat on to the deck of the submarine. My wife and I, with the child, jumped from the Premier into one of the motor-boats. There were soon plenty of motor-boats on the scene, and they took the passengers from the deck of the submarine. No one was injured, although there was a large number of people in the bow just before the collision. They ran back to safety in the stern before the impact."

PRODUCTION OF WHALE OIL.

Operation Agreement Reached.

RESTRICTED PRODUCTION.

London, July 1.

After long negotiations the Whaling Companies' Association has reached an agreement restricting Antarctic whale oil production in the coming season to about 60 per cent. of capacity. The agreement has been accepted by all Norwegian and foreign companies except Unilever and Laboremus, Limited.

Production will be by quotas, based on the average for each company in 1930-31 of its production and its factories' carrying capacity minus 38 per cent. As an example, one factory with a production of 120,000 barrels in 1930-31, and a carrying capacity of 80,000 barrels, will have a quota of 62,000 barrels. The agreement involves limitation of the number of whales caught, the oil obtained from one blue whale being estimated at 110 barrels.

The companies will form groups for utilization of the quotas. According to the agreement the total production of the season is estimated at 1,981,734 barrels, subtracting the unused quotas and adding Unilever's catch, the total production is expected to reach 2,000,000 barrels, or half the present capacity of the world whaling fleets.

HONG KONG TIDES.

A New Company

The Association has appointed an executive committee to supervise the carrying out of the agreement. Mr. Christian Salvesen, of Leith, is a member of this committee.

The Norwegian whaling company Sydhavet has sold its floating factory Sven Foyr to a British-Norwegian holding company for £200,000. The new company is to have a share capital of £170,000. Of this sum the Toernberg Whaling Company subscribes £80,000 and the existing Anglo-Norwegian holding company with the adhering companies, the Anglo-Norwegian and Falkland Whaling, subscribe the rest. The new company has bought the Toernberg Whaling and Anglo-Norwegian holdings and quotas. The Sven Foyr factory was a 4,000-ton vessel, carrying capacity of 125,000 barrels. It starts the catch this season with eight fixed whaling boats.

ROUND THE CAMP FIRE

(By Patrol Leader.)

LOCAL SCOUTING

A General Relax in Activities.

During the Summer months locally scouting activities slightly relax, and this has resulted in the Summer Camping Competition not being held. With the Summer vacations, numerous boys as well as Scouters leave Hong Kong for a spell of change. Some Groups find it desirable to discontinue meetings for a number of weeks until September or October, while the attendance at others diminishes until the Winter.

Former Troop Leader, John Miller, formerly Troop Leader of the 1st Kowloon Group. He has been in Riga for two months now, and has spent most of this time visiting relatives. He hopes to enter college soon as a cadet in the mercantile marine, thus following the footsteps of his father, Capt. Miller.

9th Kowloon. According to A. S. M. Cole, the 9th Kowloon Scout Group have closed the activities for the Summer months, re-opening on the last Monday in September.

Sketch Class Failure. It is regrettable to note that the sketching classes for Kowloon Scouts, which were proposed to be held every Monday afternoon, from 5.15 to 6 o'clock, under Mr. Sweet, have now been put off, owing to the lack of support. Boys, it is your own fault. You have missed an opportunity.

Visit to Stanley. At Stanley last week-end, a party of Chinese boys from the St. Paul's College Group, together with the Assistant Commissioner for Training (Mr. Hayward), had a most enjoyable swim.

ST. ANDREW'S TROOP.

Activities to Continue During Summer.

In spite of the typhoon weather, there was a good muster of boys on Thursday evening, and the attendance was most encouraging. More tests for the Grenham Camera prize were carried out, the main one being a hearing test. This test was for the junior boys, the participants being Peter Dillon, Leslie and John Millington, and Wally, John and Doug, Henderson. A clock-it was an alarm clock-was placed in a part of the hall. On tip-toes and blindfolded, the boys made their ways to where the clock was ticking. The first attempt failed as one of the lads gave the game away!

Wally Wins. In their second try, young Wally came out top, with Leslie and Peter second and third, respectively. One of the Johns (was it Millington?) found himself wandering aimlessly in the middle of the room.

Placing a ball in a ring, blindfolded, proved also to be an enjoyable game, although this competition does not garner points for the prize. Peter did very well to place the ball just a foot out of the circle.

Wally Henderson was making his way to the circle well, but he apparently lost his sense of direction and placed the ball a good fifteen yards, at least, away from the circle. Leslie got close to the circle, too.

After further instructions on the Public Health badge tests given by Mr. G. Hume (who has deputised for Mr. Barnes) the senior boys were given a hand-at-feeding the clock, blindfolded. Harry Millington was first; Wing second, with Len Gibson third. "Chello" Win-yard, after being within five yards' distance of the clock, evidently failed to hear the ticking, and he wandered off to the other end of the hall. But he soon knew where the clock was when the alarm went off!

In the course of the evening, map drawing and first aid were also indulged in.

PRINCESS ROYAL AND GIRL GUIDES.

Ten thousand Girl Guides and Brownies assembled in Trentham Gardens, Stoke-on-Trent, on June 25, to welcome the Princess Royal on her first official visit to Staffordshire as President of the Girl Guides' Association. Her Royal Highness, accompanied by the Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire (the Earl of Harrowby) and the Countess of Harrowby, at Sandon Hall, before motoring to Trentham. After inspecting a guard of honour, the Princess Royal took the salute at the march-past. The Princess then witnessed a display by Girl Guide Divisions, including the formation of a living Union Jack. The culmination of the programme was a rush by the Guides in mass formation towards the Princess. Her Royal Highness left by train from Whitmore.

Princess Victoria, who is President of the Buckinghamshire Girl Guides, attended a rally at Slough where she distributed the prizes won at sports.

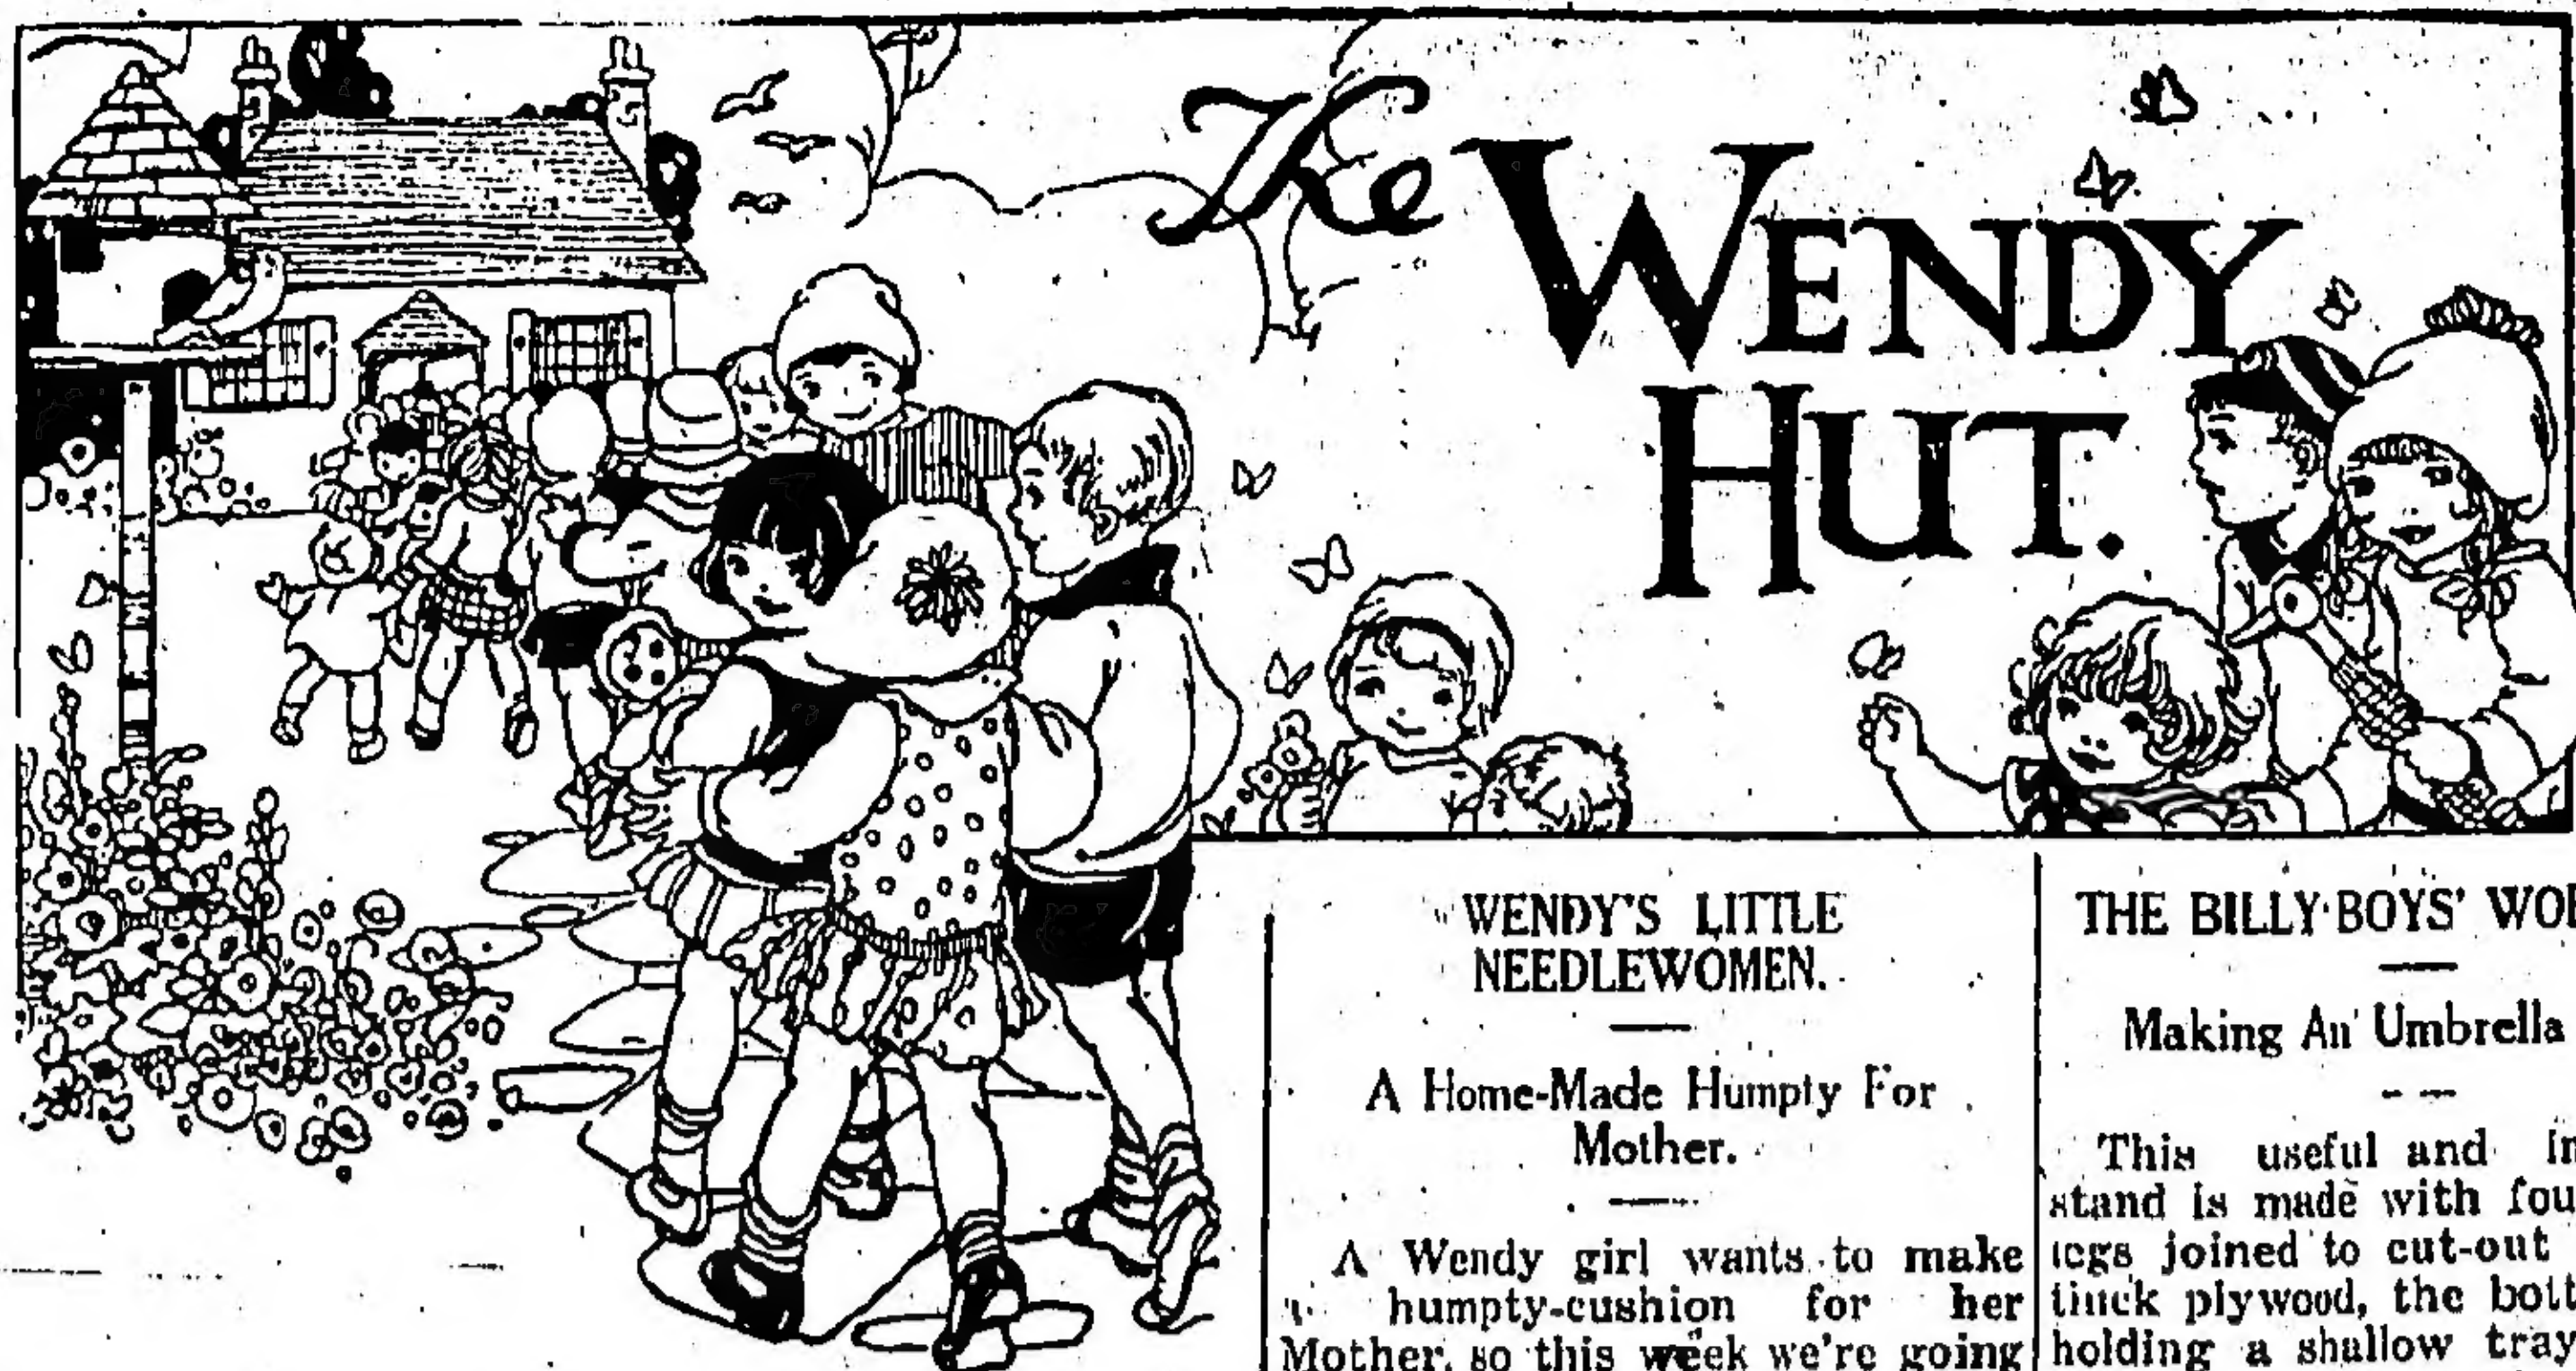

LORD KYLSANT'S RELEASE.

London, July 6.

Lord Kysant, the former head of the huge shipping combine of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, will be released from Wormwood Scrubs Prison near the end of this month. The Evening News was informed today.

Sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment on November 4 last, Lord Kysant has spent the whole of his prison life at the West London prison, and has gained full remission of sentence, marks, which totals three months in every 12.

On his release Lord Kysant will leave immediately for his home in South Wales by car, accompanied by Lady Kysant, who has made all the arrangements for his future comfort. Later they will both leave England on a world cruise.

Long Ago Stories

Cissa And The Red Galley

Cissa watched his brother building a ship. They lived in an island in the North Sea, and Cissa was the younger son of a farmer, but, like all his people, he loved the sea.

"I will come with you!" he shouted angrily when his brother

"Cissa marched down to the shore, a free man."

said he must stay at home and plough the land, "I wish to see the lands where men live in painted houses, and drink from silver and gold cups, and are washed and dressed by slaves. I can creep ashore at night and burn them in their soft beds, and carry off their treasure as well as you."

His brother took no notice of him.

On his fifteenth birthday, Cissa went to his father and demanded the knife to which he was entitled. With this, stuck in his belt, he marched down to the shore, a free man. Yes, now he was a knife-man, or Saxon as other nations called him, and he was free to do as he liked and give his opinion. But when he saw the strong men and the red galley laden with skin bags full of wheat and barley, Cissa knew that his opinion would be of little use, so he decided to act quickly.

First, he collected a number of other young knife-men, who, like himself, were dreaming of the rich lands where folk did not fight. He asked them if they had the courage to seize the red galley and go with him to the island of Britain.

Now these boys considered that might was right. So that evening, when those who had built the red galley were bidding farewell to their friends, Cissa and his band crept aboard, tied up the few men left to guard the ship, took the oars, and rowed away. Like a long red fish, the shallow vessel cut through the dark sea, and Cissa took command. In a few days' time, they saw the coast of Britain, and one morning they poked their way into a little bay. Here they dragged the red galley up on the beach, and, with hideous cries and brandishing their knives, they marched to the town.

It was deserted! Cissa and his friends were terrified at the emptiness of the beautiful houses and the cultivated gardens, and they had not the courage to take one cup of gold, for they only understood fighting.

"Other Saxons have been here before us," said Cissa. "Let us make a place for ourselves."

So those young Saxons settled in the middle of a cornfield. They dragged up the red galley and placed it on stones, they drove stakes into the ground, and got ready to fight Briton, Roman, or their own folk.

"My brother will come," smiled Cissa. "We must defend our town — Redgalleyham. I am king."

Thus the Saxons settled in Britain, and scattered their little towns with strange names all over the country. Cissa became a great king, and he destroyed all the Roman towns he could find because he was too savage to admire their beauty.

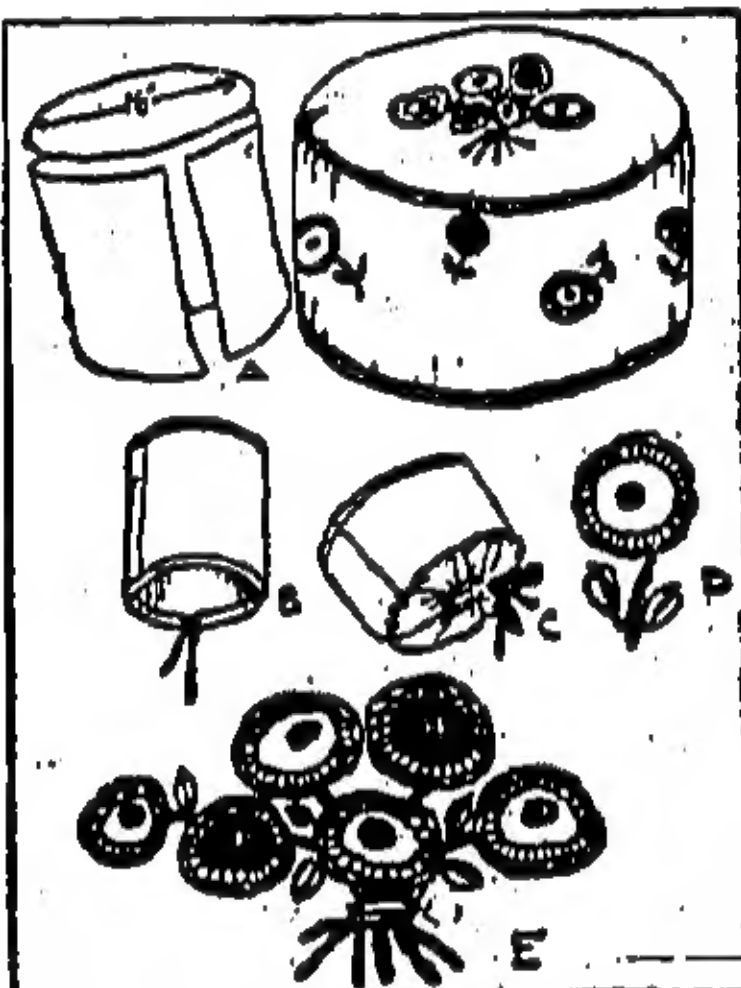

WENDY'S LITTLE NEEDLEWOMEN.

A Home-Made Humpty For Mother.

A Wendy girl wants to make a humpty-cushion for her Mother, so this week we're going to tell you about the one Tink made as a surprise-present for Wendy! It takes about two yards of hessian, and the trimming consists of funny conventional "flowers" cut out of gay coloured cottons, appliqued down with different shades of bright wools.

First cut a circle about sixteen inches across for the top of the Humpty, and work the posy of flowers in the middle. Diagram E explains quite clearly how this is done. Cut ovals of material about three inches long and two inches deep for the flowers, and tack them on top of the circle, arranging them like those in the Diagram. Then buttonhole them down with contrasting-coloured wools, and add a wool satin-stitch centre to each flower. The stems are worked in outline-stitch, and a few horizontal stitches will suggest the string which ties up the posy. Add leaves of green wool here and there, as shown in the picture.

Now measure the outside edge of the circle, and cut a strip of material to go round it, making about twenty-six inches deep. Embroider some more single flowers at intervals round this strip. Diagram D shows a flower, and you can see from the sketch of the humpty itself how they're arranged. Next join the strip to the circle—Diagram A shows the beginning of this—and then sew up the sides of the strip. Make a casing along the edge, and thread a tape through. (See Diagram B). Place the case on the floor, with the opening facing you, and stuff it well, using straw, wood-shavings, or even tightly-crumpled newspaper, and wedging the stuffing

A humpty like Tink made. You can copy it if you wish—Dressmaker tells you how to go about it.

THE BILLY-BOYS' WORKSHOP.

Making An Umbrella Stand.

This useful and inexpensive stand is made with four straight legs joined to cut-out frames of thick plywood, the bottom frame holding a shallow tray.

The legs should be made of satin walnut or oak, but deal can be used if desired. The wood should be half an inch thick, planed on both sides. Saw each leg to the sizes given at 13.

This umbrella stand is very easy to make—as Carpenter explains.

After carefully planing the edges square, mark the positions of the slots C.C. the upper slot one-and-a-half inches from the top, and the lower slot two-and-a-half inches from the other end. With a tenon saw and chisel, cut out these slots to a depth of one-eighth of an inch, as indicated in diagram D.

Two pieces of three-eighths-inch plywood, each ten inches square, will be required for the frames, which must be marked out as shown in diagrams E and F. After cutting the square openings with a pad-saw, saw off the corners and smooth the rough edges with glasspaper.

well into the edges and corners. When the case seems about as full as possible, pull up the draw-string, as shown in Diagram C, slip a little piece of hessian under the opening by the tape, and push the ends of tape into the hole. When the humpty wears flat with use, you can easily untie the tapes, and push more stuffing in.

Coloured wool braid, to match one of the wools in the embroidery, should be stitched round the top and bottom of the humpty as a finishing touch.

Wendy's Dressmaker.

HOB-Goblin O'GOBLIN O'GREEN!

He's a jolly wee Elf who lives all by himself. The Hoblin O'Goblin O'Green. In tunic of yellow, he's SUCH a smart fellow. The handsomest Goblin e'er seen.

"He travels so gaily on old Sleepy-shally."

In all kinds of weather, his hat and its feather. Are sure to catch everyone's eye.

As he travels so gaily, on old Sleepy-shally, Look out, chaps! I'm coming!" he'll cry.

He lives in a mushroom (a bit of a squash-room!) And when any friends come to call, He hands them their tea through the window—you see The mushroom-house won't hold them all!

WHY

Why do you offer your right hand to acquaintances as a token of friendship? Because, in the middle ages, the cavalier held out the hand as token that his sword was sheathed, and that he was a friend. When a man removes his glove to shake a lady's hand, he is still the knight of old, for that gallant gentleman would never offer a lady a hand covered with a gauntlet.

Why do we use forks? People of the middle-ages who wore ruffs found it very difficult to reach their mouths with their

Note that the inside corners of the opening in the top frame are rounded, as shown at E.

A square shallow tin tray will be required to fit in the bottom frame, and it would be better to obtain the tray before cutting the opening, so as to ensure a good fit.

When putting the stand together, see that the frames fit tightly in the grooves in the legs. Glue all the joints, and then fix the parts with long fine nails, as indicated in diagram G. Diagram H shows three of the legs fixed in position.

To give an ornamental finish to the stand, strips of narrow half-round beading can be glued and pinned to the edges of the legs and frames, as shown in diagram A. This beading can be purchased at most picture-frame shops for about one penny per foot.

If made of deal, the stand would look very smart with two coats of light or dark oak varnish stain, and the tray should be painted with black enamel.

"HONKY TONK"

A few years ago Sophie Tucker, "the last of the red hot mamas," gave the town of New Castle, Pa., the shock of its life, and the natives are still talking about the time she showed the town its first sheath gown.

Sophie was followed down the street by an admiring throng and the newspapers proceed to publish a detailed explanation of the construction of the new-fangled split skirt.

The dramatic Miss Tucker has lately made her debut in motion pictures, and is now appearing at the Queen's Theatre in Warner Brothers latest talking, singing Vitaphone production, "Honky Tonk". The picture directed by Lloyd Bacon, is shown in conjunction with Long Tack Sam's great act on the stage.

"THE SIN OF MADELON CLAUDET"

Jean Hersholt prides himself on being one of the few character actors on the screen who never wears a wig. Consequently, false hair was not part of his makeup for the part of the old doctor which he plays in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," which opens at the Queen's Theatre to-morrow.

Hersholt claims that he is fortunate in having soft and pliable hair which lends itself easily to a variety of character makeups.

In his latest picture, by combing his hair more severely back from his forehead each time, and by adding more gray coloring, he made three distinct changes in his hair, from thirty years to sixty.

Hersholt's role in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet" is described as one of the high spots of the vivid tale of mother love in which Helen Hayes, the New York stage star makes her talking picture hit.

"MY SIN"

At the King's Theatre next Sunday, the brilliantly fascinating picture drama, "My Sin," with Tallulah Bankhead in the stellar role, radiating both "it" and "charm" at high potential, will be shown.

Tallulah Bankhead has the nerve of the high-light blond, the "charm" of impelling beauty, finely cut and exquisitely moulded in both face and figure and a certain hypnotic allurements, undefinable.

Fredric March, co-starring with Miss Bankhead, has the reputation of being fully adequate to any roles.

"TABU"

Acclaimed by New York writers, as a picture that has no equal, "Tabu," set in a background of South Sea grandeur and ensnared by an all-native cast, is individuality itself.

A thrilling fight with sharks, beautiful native dances, and a passionate love tale that comes to an exciting end are featured in the film.

Commencing last Wednesday, "Tabu" has played to capacity audiences at the new Garden Theatre.

"HEARTBREAK"

True romance, as any dramatist knows, require a proper setting. Then, to flourish, so they tell us, it must have a beautiful heroine stirring to the imagination and a hero of surpassing bravery.

But, for romance to live, the vital element is still lacking. That is, opposition. Without opposition, romance withers and dies of its own sentimentalities.

This is not a solemn column from "Advice to the Lovelorn," nor a dissertation on the psychology of the affections. Merely a prelude to the fact that "Heartbreak" Fox drama which co-stars Charles Farrell and Madge Evans, is now showing at the King's Theatre, is said to be an outstanding example of these elements carried out in a beautiful romance which becomes almost hopelessly tangled in the most trying kind of conflict.

The locale of the drama is Vienna the home of the waltz, city of beautiful women, scene of gaiety, charm, dreams-romance! The heroine, is Madge Evans, who recently returned to the screen after a lapse of years during which time she "grew up" from childhood roles.

Charles Farrell is the hero. Alfred L. Werker directed "Heartbreak" from a screen adaptation of Llewellyn Hughes' original story, prepared in continuity and dialogue, by William Conselman. Others in the supporting cast include John Arledge, Claude King, John St. Polis and scores of others.

"MURDERS IN THE RUE MORGUE"

Who killed three beautiful girls within a week, and tossed their bodies in the waters of the Seine? And who was the author of the culminating tragedy which gave to Paris the most terrible crime in its history?

These questions form the basis of "Murders in the Rue Morgue," Universal's strange drama which is said to constitute the most startling murder mystery ever presented on the screen and which is showing at the Central Theatre to-day.

Bela Lugosi, the "Dracula" of stage and screen, is seen as the mad scientist, Dr. Mirakle, and the leading feminine role is enacted by Sidney Fox. Other important parts are played by Leon Wycoff, Bert Roach, Brandon Hurst, Betty Ross Clarke and D'Arcy Corrigan, and the picture was directed by Robert Florey, himself a native Parisian.

LEADERSHIP IN NEW ZEALAND.

During 1931, New Zealand imported 2,414 motorcars from Great Britain, valued at £272,285, as against 475 units from its nearest foreign competitor, to the value of £59,975.

The Dominion's motor-car registrations for the month of February reveal that Morris leads all others makes without exception, with sales representing over 20 per cent. of the total for that month.

BRITISH SURGEON MURDERED.

Moslem Hospital Orderly's Crime.

CAPTURED BY GUARDS.

Peshawar, Yesterday. Captain Coldstream, a civil surgeon here, was knifed in the neck by a Moslem hospital orderly while walking into the operating theatre at the Lady Reading Hospital to-day. He soon succumbed. The orderly who snatched out the dagger fled but was arrested by Indian guards. The crime has aroused very keen indignation and it is unknown whether the motive was political. The orderly was convicted of picketing in 1930. Capt Coldstream recently saved an Indian patient's life by a blood transfusion.—Reuter.

LORD LYTTON'S FEVER DECREASES.

Makes Good Progress During Day.

Peking, Yesterday. Lord Lytton's slight fever continues his temperature being 99.3 otherwise his condition is satisfactory a morning report said. But in the evening it was learned that Lord Lytton's condition is satisfactory. There is now practically no fever. Mr. Von Koltze, a member of the Secretariat of the Lytton Mission, who has been very seriously ill in the German Hospital since his arrival on Wednesday, is much better this afternoon.—Reuter.

PLAN TO PREVENT PARIS SUICIDES.

Nobel's Idea To Safe Disheartened.

An interesting story is being told about Alfred Nobel, the famous millionaire donor of the Nobel prizes. Some thirty-five years ago, Nobel was reminded of the fact that he had bought a number of houses in one of the most fashionable Paris boulevards. When he was asked by a friend if he had carried out his plans for these villas, Nobel's face darkened, and he said no. He added that he had always liked Paris, but that he had always been shocked by the many suicides committed there. His idea had been to remove the houses he had bought in special boulevard, and instead build a row of pleasant villas, to which these unfortunates could go and get the best medical attention. Nobel added that the plan had not materialised. When a furtive smile passed over the lips of his friend, Nobel went on hotly, "I have always regarded you as an enlightened and able man, and it is really strange that you do not see my point. But my idea belongs to the future and will not die with me."

JAPANESE SUGGEST MR. ARIYOSHI.

As Successor To Mr. Shigemitsu.

Shanghai, Yesterday. It is reported from Tokyo that the Japanese Government, has approached the Chinese Government for the acceptance of the appointment of Mr. Akira Ariyoshi, ex-Ambassador at Brazil, as Minister to China in succession to Mr. Shigemitsu. So far there is no confirmation. Mr. Ariyoshi was Consul General at Shanghai from 1909 to 1919. He is 56 years of age.—Reuter.

AUSTRALIAN OFFERS.

Press Comments. London, Yesterday. The conference at Ottawa is having a good press. The Times states that the opening of the proceedings justifies the confident hope that the delegates will be able to achieve agreements of great value to the Empire and to the world. The Daily Mail states that the delegates' speeches prove there is abundant ground for a wide extension of preferences. Mr. Bennett's plan is enthusiastically welcomed by the Daily Express, which has a heading "Bennett sets the pace for the Conference."

The Morning Post declares that Mr. Bennett's proposals deserve the closest consideration of the delegates.

The Daily Telegraph comments that Mr. Bennett's proposals certainly contain the nucleus of a plan for a mighty extension of inter-Imperial trade.

Mr. Baldwin's plea for lowering of tariffs is approved by the Liberal and free trade journal, the News Chronicle, which, in referring to Mr. Bennett's suggestion that Britain might grant Canada further preferences, points out that as Canadian goods at present are duty free, further preferences could only be given, not by lowering tariffs but by raising fresh ones.

The Daily Herald states that Mr. Baldwin's plea is sound economics and sound sense, but is chilling for the hot-gospellers who want a ring fence of tariffs round the Empire.—Reuter.

INDIANS CAPTURE THIEF.

charged before Mr. W. Schofield with loitering at 5 a.m. yesterday. The thief, who gained entrance to the first floor of 404, Lockhart Road through an open window, was observed by Mr. I. Haroon, whilst in the act of taking some clothes. The thief was overpowered by Messrs. Haroon and Ahmed, but on the way to the Police Station, while passing a lane, the defendant broke loose and bolted. After a lengthy chase, he was caught by the pursuers. During the chase, both pursuers fell and sustained rather nasty injuries. The defendant, who admitted a previous conviction for fighting, was sentenced to three months' hard labour.

MANCHURIA PROBLEM GROWS GRAVE.

Interference Won't Be Tolerated.

JAPAN'S ATTITUDE.

London, Yesterday. The pending crisis over Manchuria when the Lytton report reaches Geneva has aroused apprehensions among all thoughtful people.

In spite of the preoccupation of Ottawa and home problems, the Spectator typically comments that prospects are extremely disquieting. Everything indicates that Japan will refuse to assent to any arrangement interfering with the status of the Manchukuo as nominally independent, but virtually Japan's fief.

With the history of Korea as an object lesson, neither the League nor the United States can tolerate that. Therefore they must decide how far to express their disapproval. Meanwhile the constant interference with the customs officials, apparently at Japanese instigation, may lead to serious complications before Lord Lytton reports.—Reuter.

FAMOUS CASINO SOLD "UNDER HAMMER."

Riviera Brings Only £2,000 Price.

One of the most famous casinos on the Riviera came under the hammer, and was sold to the highest bidder for a mere bagatelle of £2,200, states a Paris message.

It was a casino at Beaulieu-sur-Mer, which under the name of the "Villas des Fleurs" was patronised exclusively by the cream of the British aristocracy, until it closed its doors this year for want of clients.

Indeed, it was known on the Riviera as "the House of Lords." Now, however, "the House of Lords" has passed into the hands of an Oriental syndicate, lock, stock and barrel.

The price included the whole of the premises, the croupier's rakes, chips, the licensed bar and the casino's gambling licence.

Optimistic purchasers have decided to hold it till better times, hoping no doubt that a courageous British or American buyer will come along and put it back on a paying basis.

COPRA CARGO RATES ARE REDUCED.

It is announced that the freight rates for shipments of copra to the United Kingdom and Continental ports have been substantially reduced (says The Times of Ceylon).

The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce informed a Times of Ceylon representative that the rates had been brought down to Rs. 80 from Rs. 84 per ton.

Always have GARDAN in the house!

In the tropics pain and illness are particularly liable to appear suddenly. In headache, toothache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, muscular pains, and above all in fever and its accompanying symptoms, GARDAN is of definite value.

When you are out of sorts remember:

GARDAN
 prevents and stops pain
